

FREE PUBLIC MENTAL HEALTH SEMINAR

Jane Hetherington

Implementing Peer Supported Open Dialogue in the UK

Jane works as Principal Psychotherapist in the Kent Early Intervention Service and plays a key role in the implementation of Open Dialogue in the NHS in the UK. Prior to this she has managed community psychological services and substance misuse projects in both the voluntary and statutory sector.

Jane will be presenting on her experience of working on the introduction of Peer Supported Open Dialogue (POD) in Kent. POD is a variant of the Open Dialogue model which is being piloted in England. It involves the inclusion of peer support workers trained in Intentional Peer Support (IPS) within the treatment team. POD has been developed in the USA where the New York boroughs have been evolving the model. Jane will discuss the unique experience of POD in the UK and how this model can be implemented in other public mental health services.

When: Wednesday 10th February, 6.30pm – 8pm

Where: AMDC 301 Lecture Theatre
Third Floor, Advanced Manufacturing and
Design Centre
Swinburne University of Technology
453-477 Burwood Road
Hawthorn, Melbourne, VIC 3122

NO REGISTRATION REQUIRED

For further information contact Professor John Read on johnread@swin.edu.au

This is a FREE EVENT organised jointly by the Australian branch of the International Society for Psychological and Social Approaches to Psychosis (www.isps.org.au) and the Brain and Psychological Sciences Research Centre, Swinburne University of Technology.

International Society for Psychological and Social Approaches to Psychosis